ARTIST FEATURE

HOPE BAINBRIDGE

Hope Bainbridge is an artist and textile designer based in northern California. She began work as an in-house artist for one of the top companies in the commercial art world in southern California. Missing the foothills of the Sierra Nevada mountains where she grew up, her and her husband moved back to their small hometown on the outskirts of Yosemite National Forest. Her work ranges from designing bedroom line collections for kids, removable wallpaper, and specific types of artwork requested by clients. Hope is continually inspired by the natural beauty around her. She works with a variety of mediums including oils, acrylics, water colors and digital design. Enamored by the whimsical and lovely, Hope loves to experiment with new artistic styles and aspires to elevate whatever she creates.
